EDITOR'S DESK

Vlearnyn Journal of Business Achieves JGate Indexing and DORI Signatory Status

We are thrilled to announce a significant milestone for the Vlearnyn Journal of Business: our inclusion in the prestigious JGate indexing service and recognition as a DORI signatory. This achievement marks a pivotal moment in our journey to elevate scholarly discourse in the field of business studies.

JGate indexing signifies our commitment to enhancing the visibility and accessibility of high-quality research published in our journal. It opens doors to a broader global audience of researchers, academics, and professionals seeking authoritative insights and innovative ideas in business theory and practice.

Being recognized as a DORI signatory further underscores our dedication to upholding the highest ethical standards in scholarly publishing. As a signatory, we adhere to principles of transparency, integrity, and rigorous editorial processes, ensuring that every article published in the Vlearnyn Journal of Business meets stringent criteria of academic excellence and ethical conduct.

These achievements would not have been possible without the unwavering support of our editorial board, reviewers, authors, and readers. Their commitment to scholarly rigor and intellectual inquiry has been instrumental in establishing the Vlearnyn Journal of Business as a trusted source of cutting-edge research and thought leadership.

Looking ahead, we remain steadfast in our mission to foster meaningful contributions to the field of business studies. We invite researchers from around the world to continue partnering with us in advancing knowledge and shaping the future of business scholarship.

Together, let us celebrate this milestone and embark on a journey of continued excellence and impact in the realm of academic publishing.
